

2022 Summer Open Institute

A professional development workshop for middle and high school teachers and administrators

Teachers as Writers: Developing Artifactual and Historical Literacies

We will explore the local Museum of Early Trades and Crafts, use artifacts to prompt our writing, and engage as a community of teacher-writers.

July 11-14 and August 3, 2022

9:00am - 3:00pm

Drew University

with independent work throughout July

How To Apply

Complete the application form at www.DrewTEACH.org/oi

Deadline: May 31, 2022

Credits/Fees

Tuition is discounted to $600 per credit. Participants can register for 1 or 3 credits. Payments can be made through purchase orders. Scholarships available.

Questions

Contact Kristen Turner,
kturner3@drew.edu

Join teacher-writers as we explore the past and consider our students' futures. The four-day in-person workshop culminates with celebrations of writing in August that can be attended in-person or virtually. Attendees taking the full 3-credit course will be required to do additional reading and writing throughout the summer session.

